Evaluation of the thesis:

Please enter your evaluation of the submitted work here. The report will focus on:

The thesis provides an extensive and thorough elaboration on the conceptual literature underpinning the JavaScript programming language, effectively establishing a strong theoretical foundation for the subsequent practical work.

The development and implementation of a functional movie recommendation application using the React framework are well-executed. The practical aspect of the thesis demonstrates a clear understanding of the complexities involved in building such a system, showcasing the student's technical proficiency and problem-solving capabilities.

While the technical part of the thesis is largely well-written, I did observe a few minor issues with indentation. This is minor and do not detract significantly from the overall quality and coherence of the work.

In summary, this thesis is a commendable piece of work, reflecting both a deep engagement with the theoretical aspects of JavaScript and a successful application of these principles in a practical project. The student has demonstrated a high level of competence and has made a valuable contribution to the field.

Question:

How do you see your movie recommendation system being used in real-world applications? What industries or sectors could benefit the most from it?

The evaluation may be extended to cover further pages.

Overall evaluation of the thesis:

The Opponent shall grant a mark according to the ECTS classification scale:

A – Excellent, B – Very Good, C – Good, D – Satisfactory, E – Sufficient, F – Insufficient

An "F" grade also means "I do not recommend the thesis for defence."

I recommend this thesis to be defended and suggest the following evaluation:

B - Very Good

In the case of an evaluation grade of “F – Insufficient”, please supply the main shortages and reasons for this assessment.
